

MORTDO

The End Of All Things

XII

Mortido presents its twelfth album "XII: The End Of All Things", which completes the creative path of the project. Everything is of course. All civilizations are doomed to collapse. The names and faces of people are ruthlessly gnawed by time. Death is an inevitable continuation of life. For 10 years of existence, Mortido has said everything she thought was necessary and decided to take a step into the darkness of non-existence.
